VOL. XXII

RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1887.

NO. 116

PERSONALS.

Major Erb, proprietor of the Walker House at Salt Lake City, passed west yesterday.

St. Jacobs Oil will immediately cure you of pains in the back. It conquers pain.

William Joy, late Commissary at the State Prison, came down from the State Capital last night.

United States District Attorney Tremor Coffin and Colonel John Rosser came down from Carson last evening.

Senator Stewart expects to return from Washington about the first of April, but will probably leave Mrs. Stewart at the National Capital.

The overland train which left here for the west yesterday carried Walter Lee and George Shell, two Iowa City merchants, who spent their lay-over here visiting their old neighbor, Surveyor General Irish.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of "Boschee's German Syrup" within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of coughs, colds and the severest lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by physicians, as it does not dry up a cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary, removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctors' bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75 cents, large bottles. nov29yl

Manning & Jacques have been appointed plumbers for the Reno Water Co. All other persons are warned against tampering with the mains or making connections thereto. Those having plumbing to do can only protect themselves by employing the best workman, and we recommend the above firm to any who may require such services. A. A. EVANS, Supt. Reno Water Co.

Treated to a Sleigh-Ride.

Mr. James Sullivan brought his family to town this morning in a large sleigh with "four-in-hand" and gave all of the Convent girls a grand sleigh-ride. The young ladies are sincerely thankful to Mr. Sullivan for his kindness and hope that he will think of them again before the good sleighing is over.

Hot His Mistress.

At Bodie, on the 10th instant Patrick Lynch shot and seriously wounded Agnes Graham, one of the demi-monde, and then shot himself in the forehead. The woman is likely to recover, and it is feared Lynch is not fatally hurt.

Notice!

Manning & Jacques have been commissioned by the Reno Water Co. as competent firm to do their gas-fitting, and the company would recommend parties having work of the above character to do, to employ only the best workman thereby saving much annoyance and expense. WEDNESDAY.....FEBRUARY 16, 1887

The Fremont memoirs promise to be among the interesting and valuable books of the year. General Fremont was at one time the central figure in the events that culminated in the development of the great West—it may almost be said in its creation. It may also be said that to him more than any living or dead man is due the existence of the West of to-day. The machinery which erected him to a Presidential candidate in 1856, when he was barely forty-three years old, may have been very artificial, but the popular enthusiasm which greeted the nomination was thoroughly natural, and has not wholly died out after an interval of thirty years. Great peoples never are vainly stirred as the American people then were. They never lavish worship upon an altogether unworthy idol. The brilliant achievements of Fremont as a scientific explorer, his successful struggle to save California from slavery, his early perception of the perils with which the slave power was threatening the Union, and his gallant leadership of the first great political organization which grappled with that power with anything like a chance of success in the struggle—all are features of his career that remain admirable behind clouds which have obscured that career in later days.

Fremont's memoirs are being issued in monthly parts by Belford, Clark & Co. with J. Dewing & Co. of San Francisco, as agents, and is sold by subscription only, at 50 cents a number. It is beautifully printed and illustrated with steel plates, etc. A recent number contains much of local interest. It shows the exploring party crossing the mountains from Oregon and coming south past Pyramid Lake. Their delight at seeing it was very great, and finding such a striking resemblance to the Pyramid of Cheops in the well-known rock in the center of the lake, Fremont gave the lake its present name. They found the Truckee river and some fine looking Indians camped at the mouth, from whom they purchased a lot of large fish which they feasted on, and Fremont declares he thinks they were the best he ever tasted. They named the stream Salmon Trout river and followed it for twenty miles and then struck off south. When they struck the Carson they thought it was the same stream, and his map shows Salmon Trout river heading away south and running north along the foot of the mountains, and the American heading in a large lake near where Tahoe actually is. Kit Carson was looking for the Buena Ventura river, and thought every stream they came to was a branch of it. They crossed the mountains in January, endured many hardships, ate up most of their horses and mules, reaching Sutters Fort nearly worn out. They had to leave their mountain howitzer on Walker river. It was found 20 years later and for many years was in Virginia City. We believe it fell to the Pioneer Society and was presented to the State with their other relics this winter.

There seems to be no way of knowing whether we are to be treated to a European war next spring or not. Those who are best posted are the most at sea and the interests are so complicated and so vast that no one can foresee the events of a week.

R. Saddler of Eureka is strongly urged by the Sentinel for a place on the Inter-State Commerce Bill Commission. Those best acquainted with Mr. S. believe he would honestly and intelligently represent the wishes of the people Nevada.

Bradstreet's thinks the disturbances of the financial situation, on account of fears of a European war are keeping the price of silver down.

The Inter-State Commerce bill seems to have one barrel aimed at the free pass abuse and it will knock off the vast army of dead-heads including the families of employees. No one would imagine the extent of this drain upon the roads. An officer of the Erie says it amounts to a car-load a day on that line, and Mr. Adams of the Union Pacific figures that it amounts to $700,000 a year on his road and says he will carry passengers ten per cent. cheaper when it is stopped.

The failure of the great strike in New York, which seems to have been begun under peculiar advantages, is another lesson to workingmen that there is a right and a wrong way to contend for their rights.

Until the weather becomes settled we will be obliged to continue to go to press without our usual Eastern dispatches.

EASTERN DISPATCHES

A Steamship Ashore.

NEW YORK, February 16.
The Guion line of steamship, Wisconsin, from Liverpool to New York, is ashore at the outer bar, 15 miles east of Fire Island. The stranded vessel was discovered at 8:35 this morning, when the fog that had prevailed during the night lifted. She is hard on the beach and a heavy sea is running. No communication has yet been had with the vessel from the beach, but her passengers and mails are stated to be safe.

A Republican Victory.

PHILADELPHIA, February 16.
The vote in full here yesterday was as follows: For Mayor, Fidler, Republican, 90,497; Klein, Democrat, 62,204; Phillips, Labor, 1,644. Fidler's plurality 28,293.

New York, February 16.

The Tribune states that Edison telegraphed from Florida yesterday that he was getting along well. He was dangerously ill in December with Pleurisy, but his lungs are not affected.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

A New Steamship Line.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 16.
A contract has been entered into between the Mexican Government and Messrs Luis Haller & Co. of Hartford, Conn., for the establishment of an international steamship line to ply between San Diego and Central American and Mexican ports. Three first-class steamers are to be put into service by the company, one of which, the Carlos Pacheco, was recently built at this port. Two others will be purchased in Europe. The vessels of the company are to sail under the Mexican flag.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

—Bar silver 101 3/4.
—The National Zeitung says Emperor William has decided not to issue his intended election manifesto.
—One of the San Francisco dynamiters has been captured. The proof against him is said to be conclusive.

Now is Your Time.

Hopes that this cold weather won't last long will never keep you warm, but F. Levy & Bro.'s heavy cloaks, fine white and colored blankets, quilts, fur robes, woolen hose, leggings, mittens, etc., will do it. The prices of all these have been cut to insure their sale at once. Go profit by it.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay county, Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50c at S. J. Hodgkinson & Co.'s drug store.

Nevada Theater.

The play of "Zitka" with Gustavus Lovick and Miss Josie Batchelder in the principal roles, will be presented at the Nevada Theater on the 23d inst. The advance agent would have been here before this, but on account of the blockade on the C. P. he has so far been unable to put in an appearance.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson & Co.

University.

The thanks of the University authorities are due to Fred Bristol, Frank Norcross and Walter Pearson for kindly assisting Professor McCammon and Mr. Kendall to make paths through the snow to the University building. Classes will recite to-morrow.

The disfiguring eruptions on the face, the swollen eye, the pained complexion, indicate that there is something wrong going on within. Expel the lurking foe to health. Ayer's Sarsaparilla was devised for that purpose.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

PEN PORTRAITS.

Of a Few More of Nevada's House of Commons.

HON. J. L. SMITH,

Assemblyman of Eureka county, is of the medium height, but of slender build. He has served three terms in the Legislature, and at the opening of the present session was a candidate for Speaker of this body; but could not develop sufficient strength to overcome his genial and more popular rival, Mr. McDonnell. In consequence of his long experience, he is looked upon as being a good parliamentarian, and owing to the absence of any of the legal fraternity, he occupies the enviable position of the Chairmanship of the Judiciary Committee, which position it must be said of him, he fills very creditably. In politics he is a Republican, but is ever ready to concede to less experienced Democratic colleagues any merit they may develop. His hair is gray as are his mustache and chin whiskers and they plainly state that his age is not given wrongly, viz: 58 years. Notwithstanding this he has not lost all the interesting features of a Lothario. His nose is aquiline and eyes large, though at first sight, one would not think so. He hails from New York, and by occupation is a trader, but like the most of the early arrivals from the Empire State is of a speculative, as well as of a political turn. His voice is not very strong, but when he rises to speak he is given much attention by his colleagues. The gray-blue eyes are keen, penetrating and penetrating, while his ears and heavy brows, both of which are quite prominent, imply a well-balanced mind and generously inclined disposition. He is still single, but from recent observations I could not wager with safety to myself how long he will remain so.

HON. THOMAS R. FARR

Assemblyman of Storey county is a jolly son of Albion; married, and by occupation a miner. He is very popular among his class, having held many positions within their gift not of a political nature. At present he is M. W. of District Assembly of the Knights of Labor of Storey county. He is very watchful of measures calculated to help on the well-being of the working classes. His long experience in protective organizations has enabled him to acquire a readiness in parliamentary discussions which some of his more presumptuous colleagues might well envy. He has a plain, matter-of-fact way of stating his propositions that goes straight to the understanding. He is not "bobbing up and down" on every occasion, as he does not believe in "poking his nose" into everybody's business. He has gray-blue eyes and wears glasses. His hair is, slightly inclined to be brown and his mustache is the same. He has a strong voice and articulates clearly and distinctly. His nose is of the pugacious order, though what that might imply, is held in restraint by the good nature induced by the large ears which adorn a well-proportioned cranium. He is a faithful, honest, conscientious and creditable representative of the class who sent him here. He is a Republican, but in the passage of laws for the general good, and that might be said of this body as a whole, he inevitably subordinates party to the public weal. The workingmen of Storey county may well feel proud in having entrusted their interests to his keeping.

HON. E. O. LEERMO

Of Storey county is now in his 42d year and came from the snow-capped hills of Norway. This is his first term but in the brief period allotted him to exhibit his qualifications he has given ample evidence of his ability to wrestle with legislative enactments. He is possibly the tallest member on the floor standing six feet, two inches. He wears the largest mustache—a perfect blonde—but no chin whiskers. He has a chin which indicates great firmness and would receive prominence for any owner in revolutionary emergencies, and would imply adhesion to principles calculated to benefit the masses. He belongs to the Knights of Labor, and the Miners' Union and was sent to the Assembly to look after their interests as a Republican. Notwithstanding this fact, he is not an Anarchist. His eyes are apparently small and of the grey-blue order and imply penetration and incisiveness. They are protected with long, light lashes and covered with well-developed brows, indicating that he is a good reader of human nature. His nose is aquiline and complexion as well as hair, of the Anglo-Saxon type, thereby constituting on the whole, a character that will assert itself anywhere. He is cool-headed and argumentative, enjoying quite a flow of language with just sufficient of the accent which characterizes his countrymen to make his speeches interesting; and yet he never delivers any only when the future well-being of the working classes is at stake. He is a miner and single.

HON. ALEXANDER BRATTY,

Assemblyman of Nye county is one of the most remarkable looking gentlemen in this body as he has, I think, the only pair of laughing grey eyes in the body. A tall, straight, easy-going man wearing a soft felt hat and wrapped in a heavy chinchilla overcoat, he cannot pass along the streets unobserved. In politics he is a Republican, is in his 57th year and is a native of New Jersey. He follows ranching and is a widower, being the father of three children—all girls—two of whom are married. One is Mrs. W. R. Barnes and the other Mrs. J. C. Sepulveda, well-known in California. With Miss Lizette is the only remaining single daughter, the two former are now visiting their father at the Capital and attract attention on account of their lady-like appearance. He is a quiet member of the body, but accomplishes much in legislation on account of his genial manners and good fellowship. In committee he holds his own with any of his colleagues and always puts his points plainly and bluntly. He wears chin-whiskers and a mustache both turning gray rapidly. His mustache and chin whiskers adorn a fine upper lip and a firm chin, which with a Grecian nose and large ears demonstrate a character that is a personification of the early pioneer, who, if his life's history could be written in this brief space, would be filled with such enterprise and endeavor in which courage, honesty and perseverance would figure as the leading traits. He is always smiling and is never out of humor. He relishes the good things of life, is highly respected by his colleagues and as I have learned, greatly beloved by all his neighbors. The honors he enjoys were thrust upon him as he cares little indeed for politics.

HON. ISAAC WISEMAN,

Assemblyman of Elko county is a Democrat, as the fact that he hails from Kentucky might very naturally appear. He is verging on to 60 years and in this respect is next to Mr. Clapp. He holds his age well, however, and possibly would not show it within 15 per cent. of what it is were it not that in 1870 he lost his right arm while operating a threshing machine on his magnificent farm near Wells. He is always in his seat when the roll is called and never leaves until the speaker's gavel announces an adjournment. He is up early and attends all committee meetings, where his views on agriculture, irrigation and immigration matters are listened to with attention. On the floor of the Assembly he seldom participates in debate being more content to let the younger men do the talking; while he ever votes on the side of the people as against corporations. He is the father of six children, two of whom are dead, three married and one single. The old man ignores the three score years and can be found with the younger members at any time. He has gray hair but does not wear either mustache or whiskers. His nose is aquiline and large denoting intellectuality, as well as an appreciation of everything good in the domestic circle. His eyes are grey and penetrating while they reflect a keen sense of wit and humor mixed with a fondness for sarcasm. He belongs to the Jacksonian politics and could not be induced to change his convictions for the Presidency. His ears are large and quietly bespeak for their possessor a disposition that never allowed anyone to leave his door-step who sought for redress of immediate wants without having been made temporarily happy through his generous disposition to help his fellow men along.

The Greatest Study of Mankind

Is Man.

The greatest study of mankind is man, And who ere his wondrous frame doth scan, Ponder and devise to cure an ill, Whether by device, fruit or pill, An equal benefactor is he; and we haste, The inventor of a cathartic of delicious taste.

To do him honor.

Who remember a not how the distressed mother, Her child's entreaties tried to smother, That she insist not the horrid dose be taken.

The remembrance even now does nausea awaken.

And fond father, To be witness of a child's torture, would rather Pay high price If money could purchase cathartic nie.

We have it now! and great De Prati's name

Appears upon the scroll of Esculapian fame;

For after long study what would suit, Has hit upon delicious fruit

To cure our ills.

Away at once with draughts and pills; For whether it be indigestion, liver complaint or constipation,

Or any disease to which flesh is heir, He here with pride does bold declare, And on the assertion will wager big,

That it can be cured by a Hamburg Fig.

Waiting for the New Cable.

As it was reported this morning the electric light would shine this evening, many will be disappointed in consequence of there being none, and it is safe to say no one regrets the delay more than the manager. As the Gazette stated Monday evening, it would be poor policy to start until the new and proper cable for transmitting power is in place. A few days longer, although provoking, will be no serious loss to any and as the exhibit of Saturday evening demonstrated the fact of Reno having as perfect a light as there is in the world, all can afford to be patient.

Not a California Bear.

Anybody can catch a cold this kind of weather, the trouble is to let go, like the man who caught the bear. The Trains on the Mountains Waiting for a Path.

There is considerable uncertainty about the Nevada Senate having a quorum again during the session, as those on the east-bound train are still lying at Colfax. The two trains going west are at Truckee, and Sunday night's train is at Cisco.

Last night a lot of snow-sheds broke down, and early this morning the snow-plow ran into a gang of men shoveling in the sheds, and several of them were hurt. The V. & T. train came in on time last night, but the little Nevada & California train

TOOK THE CAKE.

It has had plenty of snow, but has not been a minute late on any trip. Yesterday and day before they had two engines each way. Yesterday they found three feet of snow on a level with the cuts full of drift. The snow was up to the car windows in the rock cut on top of the hill, and was five and six feet deep in many places, and though the engines struck them going as fast as they could run, they would just barely be moving as they crawled out. There is undoubtedly plenty of snow up north. Lou Dean had a letter dated the 12th, saying that it had been snowing

A JOURNEY TO MEXICO.

How the Land of the Aztecs Impressed an American.

(LEROY D. BROWN.)

East of Chapultepec, on the opposite side of the city, is the village of Guadalupe. Here I saw the grave of General Santa Anna, and the rich cathedral, which contains the celebrated picture of a virgin.

The sanctuary of Guadalupe is perhaps the most famous in the Republic. Connected with it is the following tradition, devoutly believed by almost all Mexicans: An Indian named Diego worked at Guadalupe. One day, while crossing the hill behind the village, he saw a rainbow, in the middle of which was a beautiful woman, surrounded by white clouds. Upon approaching the figure, Diego was told that she was the Virgin Mary, who desired a temple to be built in that place, promising help to all believers who would call upon her in time of trouble. She also directed him to tell the bishop of Mexico what had taken place. Zumaraga, the bishop, discredited the statement. The virgin appeared to the Indian several times afterward, and on one occasion ordered him to pick flowers from the barren hill, where none had grown before, and give them to the bishop. Accordingly he gathered beautiful flowers, where none had previously grown, and carried them in his cloak to the episcopal palace. Diego there told his story, dropping his flowers on the floor, when suddenly the bishop fell on his knees, at the sight of the image of the virgin that appeared on the cloak of the Indian. This led to the building of the sanctuary of Guadalupe. Here is deposited the flag carried by Hidalgo, the patriot priest who lost his life in the Mexican revolution of 1810. The 12th of December is the anniversary of the day when the virgin first appeared to Diego. This is celebrated by a great religious festival, which is attended by persons from all quarters of the country.

Corvoda is, in the state of Vera Cruz, on the Mexican railway, about 200 miles from the National capital, and 65 miles from the Gulf. Over this road a through daily train is run each way, and in summer the entire trip is made by daylight, which is something to one who wishes to see the country.

Leaving Buena Vista railway station at sun-rise, passing Guadalupe on the left, and lake Tezococo on the right, I arrived at Teotihuacan (27 miles) in an hour. Here, from the train the tourist has a good view of two renowned pyramids, similar in appearance to the great mounds at Miamisburg and Marietta. The level country along this route is sparsely settled, and the people live together in villages, cultivating maize and maguey, the nopal, or cactus tree being used for fences.

For fully 100 miles the majestic snow-capped peaks of Popocatepetl and Iztaccihuatl may be seen on the right. At Huamantla, Malinche, another lofty mountain appears, and from its summit the natives bring snow to the train and sell it, mixed with lemon juice, to the passengers. At San Marcos, the railway crosses the road over which the army of General Winfield Scott marched in 1847. From Esperanza (152 miles) the traveler has an excellent view of the sublime peak of Orizaba. Of this Bayard Taylor has said: "Rising from the level of the sea and the perpetual summer of the tropics, with an unbroken line to the height of 18,000 feet, it stands singly among the other ranges with its spireless crown of snow, as some giant, white-haired Northern king might stand among a host of the weak effeminate scybarites of the South. Orizaba dwells alone in my memory, as the only perfect type of a mountain to be found on this earth."

The next station is Boca del Monte, or mouth of the mountain. I have seen the triumphs of engineering skill in many countries, but I have never seen anything which equals that of the Mexican Railway between Boca del Monte and Maltrata. In the short distance of 13 miles the road descends 2,374 feet. There are so many curves and the ground is so steep, that trains move less than seven miles an hour in this part of the journey. In many places the track is built on the edge of an appalling precipice, and a roaring torrent is seen at the bottom of the canyon, hundreds of feet below.

Horse-shoe Curve on the Pennsylvania Road, and New River on the Chesapeake & Ohio, do not seem tame in comparison with the magnificent scenery of the Mexican Sierras.

In riding from the summit to the base of this range of mountains, the traveler witnesses the most remarkable changes in the vegetation. A little beyond Boca del Monte the flora consists of dwarf pine, spruce, and oak, with a few Alpine flowers. Farther down are the poplars, sycamores, and maples of temperate climates, and at the foot of the Sierras are the palm, the pine-apple and the pomegranate. Such a rapid procession of trees and flowers is worth traveling 3,000 miles to look upon.

Beyond Maltrata, in a broad and very fertile valley, lies the pretty city of Orizaba, the present capital of the State of Vera Cruz, and 16 miles beyond Orizaba is Cordova, which lies at an altitude of nearly 3,000 feet above the level of the sea. The town contains 5,000 inhabitants, but not a single vehicle, if I may except the horse cars that convey passengers over a mile and a half that lies between the plaza and the railway station. Hotel, it has none, and I was compelled to ask for lodging at what in Ohio would be called a private boarding house. Kinder treatment from strangers I have never received anywhere, although the accommodations were none of the best. My room was a 12-foot cube with a heavy door, the key of which would weigh a pound. The only window had but one sash and that was immovable. The floor was of tile, which was rather damp. The bed was a mere cot, and although three feet from the tile it did not protect me from the persevering attacks of a thousand hungry fleas that, in some way, had learned of the arrival of a stranger. But I was not traveling for pleasure alone, and so did not greatly regret this experience. The fonda furnished good Mexican meals and ample opportunity for bathing, and this was something for which to be thankful. At Cordova I met Dr. A. A. Russell, an ex-confederate colonel who has resided in Mexico for 20 years. He showed me many kindnesses, and did much to make my stay in his town a pleasant one. After visiting coffee, sugar and tobacco plantations, lemon, orange and banana orchards, and gardens in which pine-apples were grown, I returned to the City of Mexico. In a few more days I started for the North and in due time reached my destination, having traveled by rail since leaving Ohio the distance of 7,275 miles. On greeting my family I thought of Coleridge's stanza:

"But what is all to his delight, Who, having long been doomed to roam, Throws off the burden from his back before the door of his own home?" And now, I must say adios.

A Gift for All.

In order to give all a chance to test it, and thus be convinced of its wonderful curative powers, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds will be, for a limited time, given away.

This offer is not only liberal, but shows unbounded faith in the merits of this great remedy. All who suffer from coughs, colds, consumption, asthma, bronchitis or any affection of the throat, chest or lungs, are especially requested to call on J. H. Dickinson & Co.'s drug store and get a trial bottle free; large bottles $1.

Under Arrest.

A dispatch received here yesterday from Los Angeles stated that the "Kansas Kid," the fellow who broke into Howard & O'Neill's saloon last fall, is under arrest at that place.

A CHILD'S SKIN, Ears and Scalp Covered with Eczematous Scabs and Sores. Cured by Cuticura.

MY LITTLE SON, AGED EIGHT years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Under treatment these scabs the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed, until but a small patch was left at the back of the head.

My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDY, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDY, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that my statement is true and without exaggeration. CHAR. McKAY, Oct. 6, 1885. Peabody, Mass.

I have seen Mr. McKay's boy when badly afflicted with the eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and did all a father could do to for a suffering child, but availed nothing. I know that the statements he has made you at regard the curing of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDY, are true in every particular. WILLIAM J. MCCARTHY, 23 Foster Street, Peabody, Mass.

MISCELLANEOUS

A Safeguard.

The fatal rapidity with which slight colds and coughs frequently develop into the gravest maladies of the throat and lungs, is a consideration which should impel every prudent person to keep at hand, as a household remedy, a bottle of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

Nothing else gives such immediate relief and works so sure a cure in all affections of this class. That eminent physician, Prof. F. S. Storer, of the Maine Medical School, Brunswick, Me., says:—

"Medical science has produced no other any-lyne expectorant so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is invaluable for diseases of the throat and lungs."

The same opinion is expressed by the well-known Dr. L. J. Addison, of Chicago, Ill., who says:—

"I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice of medicine, any preparation of so great value as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs. It not only cures colds and cures severe coughs, but is more effective than anything else in relieving even the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

is not a new claimant for popular confidence, but a medicine which is to-day saving the lives of the third generation who have come into being since it was first offered to the public.

There is not a household in which this invaluable remedy has once been introduced where its use has ever been abandoned, and there is not a person who has ever given it a proper trial for any throat or lung disease susceptible of cure, who has not been made well by it.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has, in numberless instances, cured obstinate cases of chronic Bronchitis, Laryngitis, and even acute Pneumonia, and has saved many patients in the earlier stages of Pulmonary Consumption. It is a medicine that only requires to be taken in small doses, is pleasant to the taste, and is needed in every house where there are children, as there is nothing so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for treatment of Croup and Whooping Cough.

These are all plain facts, which can be verified by anybody, and should be remembered by everybody.

Dangers in Africa.

"The most dangerous savage foes we have to fear," says Mr. Stanley, "are the crocodile, hippopotamus, and the buffalo. We lost five men during my last visit to the Congo, from these animals; three were killed by crocodiles, one by a hippopotamus, and one by a buffalo. There are a large number of hippopotami along the Congo and its tributaries, and thousands upon thousands of crocodiles. The latter are by far the most insidious foes we have, because they are so silent and so swift. You see a man bathing in the river," said Mr. Stanley, "with one of his vivid graphic touches; 'he is standing near the shore laughing at you, perhaps; laughing in the keen enjoyment of his bath; suddenly he falls over and you see him no more. A crocodile has approached unseen, has struck him over, and he is instantly seized and carried off. Or, it may be that the man is swimming; he is totally unconscious of danger; there is nothing in sight, nothing to stir a tremor of apprehension; but there, in deep water, under the shadow of that rock, or hidden beneath the shelter of the trees, yonder, is a huge crocodile; it has spotted the swimmer, and is watching the opportunity; the swimmer approaches; he is within striking distance; stealthily, silently, unperceived, the creature makes for its prey; the man knows nothing till he is seized by the leg and dragged under, and he knows no more! A bubble or two indicates the place where he has gone down, and that is all."

He Forgot His Own Name.

"That reminds me," said a youngish sort of a newspaper man, "that I forgot my name not long ago. I had been out West for several months, and was in the habit of calling at the general delivery of the post-office for my mail. The clerk who was usually on duty there learned to know me, and I never thought of giving my name when I asked for mail. On this occasion I was expecting a rather important letter, and I found a new clerk on duty at the window. When I asked for letters, he demanded, with some suddenness, my name. It came on me while my mind was intent on the subject of the expected letter, and so you know that I absolutely forgot my own name. I walked off a few feet and stood for several minutes trying to recall my name. I could not do it. Then it struck me that I was losing my mind, that I was becoming insane, and I dashed out of the building a little wildly. As my foot was on the last step, memory came back. My name was clear to me, and I returned and got my letters."—(Chicago Inter-Ocean.)

"The Blood is the Life."

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair complexion, spirits, and soundness of constitution will be established.

FATAL

Do you know that a pain in the left shoulder or arm is a sign of heart disease? It is; and that disease may have progressed far towards a fatal termination without exciting suspicion. Take DR. FLETCHER'S HEART REMEDY at once.

Shortness of Breath. Dizziness, faintness, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, stiffness, pain in the shoulder or arm, denote the presence of heart disease, and call for the immediate use of Dr. Fletcher's Heart Remedy.

Dropsy. Dr. Fletcher's Heart Remedy rapidly removes the effusion in cases of Dropsy, which is due in most cases to some disease of the heart or general circulation.

HAMBURG FIGS. Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure for the reason that no one likes to take the medicine that is usually prescribed. Hamburg Figs were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found effective as well as pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25 cents.

At all druggists, or address J. J. MACK & CO., 9 and 11 Front St., San Francisco.

LEGAL.

Summons.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Seventh Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe.

The State of Nevada sends to Robert Heene greeting: You are required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant, by the Central Pacific Railroad Company, as plaintiff, in the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons—exclusive of the day of service—if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said complaint is brought to recover judgment against you, Robert Heene, defendant, for the sum of four hundred and fifty and 50/100 ($450.50) dollars for fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh years interest on the remainder of purchase money, and for the remainder of purchase money arising out of a certain contract with said county, and that the plaintiff pay said sum within 30 days from rendition of judgment, and in case of failure to pay within said 30 days, that the said contract be declared null and void, and that you, defendant, and all persons holding under said contract be forever barred and foreclosed of all right to conveyance thereunder, and that the plaintiff in and for the possession of said premises and for costs herein, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court of Reno, in said County. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I, T. V. Julien, have hereunto set my hand and office of the Clerk of said Court, this 9th day of November, A.D. 1887.

T. V. JULIEN,
Clerk of the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District, Nevada, in and for Washoe County.

Jos. D. Redding, Attorney for plaintiff.

An Opportunity to Secure a Home at Reno!

The manager of the Lake estate, in order to enhance the value of the property of the estate, as well as assist in

Building Up the Town of Reno

Has determined to offer two hundred fine building lots for sale, some of which are situated in the central part of town, and are very desirable for business purposes.

The proposed site for homes is immediately south of the Truckee river, and its elevation affords a magnificent view of the mountains in the distance, and the valley and town near at hand. A more perfect place for an elegant home could not be selected. The soil is good and an abundant supply of water will be sold with each lot.

The health of the locality cannot be questioned, as its elevation assures a perfect system of sewerage. Gas mains will be laid through the streets free of cost, for the benefit of those desiring to use them. It is also intended by the owners to lay out a park on the south side of the Truckee river, covering 20 acres, in which the public may enjoy the pleasure of driving, fishing and boating.

The educational advantages of Reno are well known, and the business prospects of the town are assured beyond a doubt. Purchasers of these lots may feel confident that the best of terms will be offered, and they will be fairly dealt with. For further particulars, address
